

Lilian Baylis at the impress at the House of Lords

Twenty students from LBTS presented their 'In the City' business plan to a panel of peers from the House of Lords. Our students were invited guests of Baroness Amos (pictured below) and had full guided tour of the Commons and Lords. This included sitting in the House of Lords during an afternoon debate. At the end of the day, after their hugely successful presentation, the Lords questioned students about their views on politics in the U.K. Feeling confident and buoyant following their presentation, the students were upfront and honest about what they felt about the political system and its impact on their lives. All in all an excellent day was had by all involved and our budding entrepreneurs and politicians got a taste of life inside Westminster.
